Hija Folks

See it's the middle of June already. Sometimes the time seems to drag so, but somehow the months just fly by! - How is that?

Just turned down an opportunity to take a short trip over to see old Missio city. It would have been a grand trip, and one I'd never then like to go on - but can't afford to go right now. Maybe later. The way I look at it now, I'm up with the top on missions, and if I were to miss out and some one else were to get the chance to go home and leave me behind again - I'd feel even worse, so I think maybe I'm doing the right thing by staying home and fighting the war! Hope so.

Talk about something good - Jim Cury made a trip to Gibraltar last week and brought some bananas back with him! - Haven't even seen one since we passed thru South America over a year ago! All the luxuries - now bring on some ice cold milk! None of that in 14 months!

Be sure to keep 'em crossed for its getting where it really matters now!

Lots of Love, Frank
